This being said, let's see what we prepared for this experience!

The context of Prevention++ project

Prevention++ is a project developed by IPTA Romania, MARTA Centre Latvia and Watergratt Estonia, initiated in July 2019 and scheduled to be finalized by the end of 2021. The project promotes preventive education against addictions through NFL, with two main outcomes:

- (1) Equipping a functional network of youth workers with competences and methods on preventive education in the partner countries, and here is where this TC and you as participant could contribute at. These series of learning events are dedicated to youth workers who are active in their communities and organizations, be it NGOs, youth clubs, schools, public institutions, social services etc. The previous training courses are:
 - The first TC was organized in Arad, Romania, in October 2019, when we explored the basics of preventive education, facilitation and creativity in delivering methods for youngsters. We had a great experience that needs to be followed-up with local activities in the participants' organizations, and further trainings like this one.
 - The second TC was organized online, in April 2021, and we took prevention to the next level with multiple non-formal methods facilitated in an online context and ready to be delivered to youngsters!
 - The third TC (this one) warmly welcomes you on board! You'll find all the details on the next pages.
- (2) A manual of preventive education that contains approx. 40 methods suitable for both offline and online facilitation, and this is our contribution.

The methodology

The working methodology addresses multiple concepts and activities related to preventive education on substance addictions. “The Online” offers many resources for a NFL setting, so expect to be part of a very interactive experience. We will use Zoom for the plenary (registration link to be provided after you confirm your participation).

We will work mainly with individual and group tasks, research and experiential learning. Be ready to share, give and reflect throughout the whole TC, be it in the plenary, by chat, private messaging or even face to face, if possible. We will encourage a tri-dimensional approach: acquiring knowledge, practical experience and reflective evaluation.

Expect to have an intense working program with a wide range of methods, from research-based tasks to art-based sessions, interactively guided. We will mix theoretical input, methods, tips & tricks on facilitation, practice from your organizations and some legal provisions. Anyway, the floor is not only ours, the facilitators and organizers, but yours as well, hence feel free to consider your participation as a co-creative contribution.

It’s very important to understand one very important aspect of this TC, and actually of this whole Prevention++ project: we don’t own the truth of preventive education on addictions, we just promote one educational approach that acquired good results so far. And this will be the baseline of our contribution. The final outcome will definitely incorporate your contribution.

Tasks & Homework

During the TC, one of the optional individual tasks consists of testing as many methods as possible presented in the TC. We know that most of you are engaged with different groups of youngsters in your organizations. In the first four days of the TC, we will work together. In the next two days, we invite you to test the activities with your groups and to explore the topic with the stakeholders. During the TC we will permanently ask for your feedback, as it will be incorporated in the final version of the methodology used in the event.

As a homework, we kindly ask each participant to design a file which presents the main campaigns on preventive education in their communities, and if applicable, to describe their role in it. This homework won't be presented during the TC, but it is a very helpful resource to understand how to deliver some of the sessions. Each participant is in charge with preparing this before attending the TC.

During the TC, you will experience a wide typology of activities. After the third working day of the TC, you will all be granted with full access to the raw version of the methods proposed for the Prevention++ manual, hence our intention is to get you familiar to the outline and goal of each method.

The TC will bring together a minimum of 27 participants from Romania (9), Latvia (9) and Estonia (9), plus the team of facilitators.

We kindly ask each one of you to register via the following link, otherwise we may not consider you as participant in the TC:
